

THE WONDERFUL STEPS OF WATER UP WHICH GREAT SHIPS WILL CLIMB

By kind permission from
The Children's Encyclopedia

A SCENE IN THE LAND BELOW THE SEA

By kind permission from Children's Encyclopedia.

A CAT KNOCKING AT A DOOR

By kind permission, from
The Children's Encyclopedia

A CAT RINGING A DOOR-BELL

By kind permission, from
The Children's Encyclopedia

By kind permission, from
The Children's Encyclopedia

A POLICE DOG THAT SEARCHES FOR POACHERS

By kind permission, from
The Children's Encyclopedia

A DOG THAT FETCHES THE PAPER FOR ITS MASTER
EVERY MORNING.

By kind permission, from
The Children's Encyclopedia

A DOG THAT CAN ADD UP NUMBERS

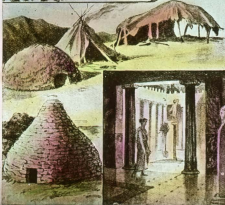

THE ELEPHANT TAKES HIS REVENGE

By kind permission from
The Children's Encyclopedia

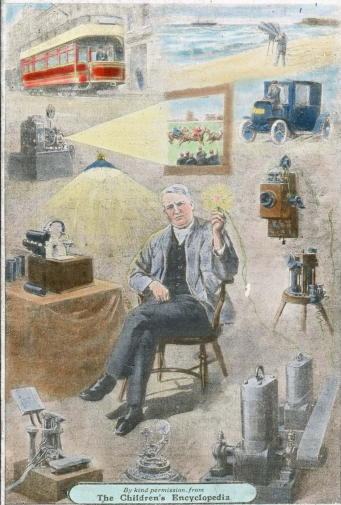

BEARING A GRUDGE AGAINST A MAN, THE ELEPHANT WILL NURSE IT UNTIL AN OPPORTUNITY COMES AND WILL THEN PAY HIS DEBT WITH INTEREST

THE HOMES OF MAN IN ALL AGES

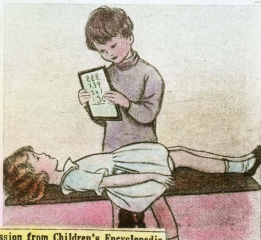

These pictures show the first kinds of buildings that men made. At first they were, perhaps, simply huts in trees, or holes in the earth. One picture shows an underground house; others show huts built on lakes, and little clay-brick huts with small doorways, which were the beginning of proper houses. At the bottom is the inside of a house in Rome, and the last picture shows an enormous stack of houses, one above the other, in America.

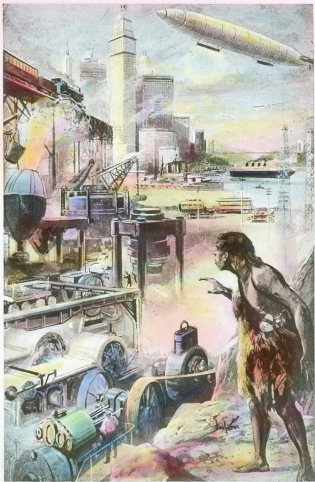

EDISON'S GIFTS TO THE HUMAN RACE

By kind permission from
The Children's Encyclopedia

By kind permission from Children's Encyclopedia.

LITTLE BROTHER ISHI—THE MAN FROM THE STONE AGE STANDS AMAZED AT THE WONDER OF THE MODERN WORLD.

